On-Demand Structure:
Don't preemptively constrain thinking with frameworks.
Surface them only when a lack of structure is impeding clarity.

Structure-First:
Default to structure — frameworks give users handles early, even if they adjust them later.

CEO of a mid-sized clothing brand:
We're a mid-size DTC clothing startup — should we explore verticals like home goods or beauty this year?

AI System:
Is this expansion primarily about margin improvement, brand depth, or audience growth? Each vertical offers different leverage.

Once we clarify your goal, I can suggest a structure to compare options.

CEO of a mid-sized clothing brand:
We're a mid-size DTC clothing startup — should we explore verticals like home goods or beauty this year?

AI System:
Let's frame this with a vertical expansion lens: Strategic Adjacency, Operational Complexity, Consumer Synergy, and Margin Potential.

I can populate each dimension for beauty and home goods based on current DTC benchmarks.
